LA FOLLETTE BOOM IS GETTING READY TO BLOSSOM FORTH

Time for a Formal Announcement Approaching,
While Supporters
Get Details In Hand.

PLATFORM READY

By H. J. REYNOLDS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

Washington, June 16.—As the time approaches for the formal announcement of Senator Robert M. La Follette's presidential candidacy, his friends here are giving increasing attention to the details of his campaign. Chief among these are (1) the manner in which the La Follette electors will be placed upon the ballots in the several states, and (2) the selection of a running mate.

The writing of the La Follette platform presents no difficulties. It has already been written, made public at Cleveland in the course of the efforts of the Wisconsin insurgents to have it adopted by the Republican party, and with slight changes will be ready for presentation to the country as the platform of the new third party.

The La Follette electors are expected to be nominated by petition in the states where the law permits this procedure. Friends of the Wisconsin Senator have been busy for the past month studying the election laws of various states so that when the time comes to circulate their petitions, the path for the work will be marked out and ready.

In view of Senator La Follette's almost complete silence since his announcement on May 28 that he might be a third party candidate for the presidency little is known here as to his desires with respect to the selection of a third party candidate for vice president. If it is determined that some one should appear in the second place in the ticket, the naming of this man probably will be left entirely to the judgment of Senator La Follette himself.

There will be no national convention to do the nominating in the sense that the Republican and Democratic parties hold the national conventions. Endorsement of La Follette is expected, both by the Conference for Progressive Political Action, meeting in Cleveland on July 4, and the Farmer-Labor-Progressive convention, which meets in St. Paul tomorrow, but neither of these gatherings is in a position to make an actual nomination of a vice presidential candidate. At a word from La Follette, however, the Cleveland convention may designate some one as the senator's running mate.

Among those who were suggested here today for second place on the third party ticket were: William H. Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists and chairman of the forthcoming progressive conference at Cleveland; Warren E. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen; George Huddleston, Democratic Congressman from Alabama and one of the organizers, with La Follette, of the Conference for Progressive Political Action; Senator George W. Norris and Senator Robert B. Howell, both Nebraska Republicans with an insurgent leaning; Senator Smith W. McKim, of Iowa, one of the Republicans aligned with La Follette and the insurgent bloc in the Senate; Senator Lynn J. Frazier, of North Dakota, another member of this bloc, and a consistent opponent of the Coolidge administration; and Huston Thompson, of Colorado, Democrat and chairman of the federal trade commission.

ATLANTIC CITY EXCURSION

The P. R. E. Co., ran a two day excursion to Atlantic City, leaving here Saturday night at 9 o'clock and returning early this morning. There were eleven cars on the train and seven of these were filled with passengers when they left Clearfield.

NEW FRENCH CABINET DOWN TO BUSINESS

Paris, June 16 (INS).—After a fortnight of domestic political turmoil, the cabinet today plunged into an accumulation of home and foreign problems with the determination of settling them as speedily as possible.

Premier Edouard Herriot's new ministry held its first formal council at the Elysee Palace to draw up the program which will be presented to the Chamber of Deputies. The Cabinet, after two hours discussion, approved the outline of a long ministerial declaration detailing the precise domestic and foreign policies that M. Herriot's government will follow. A complete copy will be handed to President Doumergue this evening. It will be read in the Senate as well as the Chamber tomorrow.

After the cabinet council Premier Herriot said he planned to visit Brussels either immediately before or after his conference in London. His conversations with Belgian statesmen will deal with reparations and Ruhr occupation. Premier Herriot is expected to read the government's declaration of policy in the Chamber tomorrow afternoon and debate upon it will open at once. As the left bloc is in control in the chamber the opposition will have no chance to upset any part of the government's program.

The next few days will be spent in dealing with domestic business. It is not expected that the Government will tackle any phase of the reparations issue until after conference with Premier MacDonald in London at the end of this week.

Premier Herriot has already pledged his support to the Dawes Reparation plan.

I. W. W. IN ATTEMPT TO DYNAMITE MORGUE

San Pedro, Calif., June 16 (INS).—Armed military and police guards stood watch at San Pedro today over the morgue where the bodies of the 48 gunners killed in the U. S. S. Mississippi explosion are resting, following storming of the morgue and threats to blow it up by alleged I. W. W. Members.

"It should be 4800 dead instead of 48," police said the "Radicals" had shouted at the door of the morgue.

Police and sailor guards were rushed to the morgue after police had dispersed an alleged I. W. W. mob and frustrated a plot to blast the building.

The plot, according to police was to break up a meeting of the I. W. W. hall when 300 citizens and sailors wrecked the building. Six of the alleged radicals were beaten and then tarred and feathered.

The authorities said today the "radicals" and sailors had been warning for weeks, following the ousting of a sailor from the I. W. W. hall, because it was claimed, he resented attacks on the American navy and the flag.

MORE BIG TROUT

POPULATION INCREASES

1,943,000 DURING 1923;
NEW RECORD IS MADE;
TOTAL NOW 112,826,000

New York, June 15.—The population of the United States increased 1,943,000 during 1923, according to estimates announced today by the national bureau of economic research. January 1, 1924, the total population was 112,826,000, figures show. In the latter half of 1923 a net increase of 1,162,000 was recorded. This was the greatest growth for a six months' period in history, the report stated. The unusual increase is attributed to the heavy excess of immigration over emigration and the lowest death rate which ever prevailed.

U. S. AMBASSADOR TO MEXICO ASKS TO BE RELIEVED OF JOB

Charles Beecher Warren
Tenders His Resignation
from Position to President Coolidge.

AN ABLE DIPLOMAT

Washington, June 6 (INS).—Charles Beecher Warren, the United States Ambassador to Mexico, who plans to resign that post soon, has been prevailed upon by President Coolidge to withhold his formal resignation for the present, it was learned here today. In the meantime, Warren will come to Washington from his home in Detroit for conferences with the President and Secretary Hughes and will then return temporarily to Mexico City.

Washington, June 16 (INS).—Charles Beecher Warren, the United States Ambassador to Mexico, has tendered his resignation to President Coolidge, effective July 1, it was learned here today.

Drafted into the American diplomatic service by the late President Harding, Warren served with distinction as ambassador to Japan, resigning a year ago to return to private life.

When definite steps were undertaken by Secretary of State Hughes to enter into certain engagements with Mexico preparatory to the establishment of diplomatic relations with the Oregon governor, Warren was recalled to public service and sent to Mexico City with Judge John Burton Payne to draft these agreements for the settlement of claims between Mexico and the United States.

Again he returned to private life and again he was recalled, this time by President Coolidge, to be the first American ambassador to Mexico since the beginning of the revolutionary troubles several years ago.

So high a regard did Mr. Coolidge have of Warren's ability as a diplomat that he picked him as chairman of the committee which wrote the Republican platform at the Cleveland convention.

Ambassador Warren naturally was the center of all the disagreements among party leaders as to what should go into the platform and what should be left out.

Officially, however, Warren's resignation was based on his desire to again return to private life and to look after his personal business affairs in view of the fact that friendly and cordial diplomatic relations had now been established between the United States and Mexico. This was the job he was assigned to, and he believes it has been very nearly accomplished.

Warren will return to Mexico City to wind up the affairs there in which he is personally interested and will then return to Detroit, where he makes his home.

The United States probably will be represented at Mexico City until December by a charge d'affaires, as the appointment of an ambassador could not be confirmed by the Senate until the new congress meets.

President Coolidge has not yet accepted Ambassador Warren's resignation, and it was said at the White House today that an effort might be made to get him to remain in the diplomatic service.

PAINTER KILLED IN FALL

Pittsburgh, June 16 (INS).—One man was instantly killed and another was said to have been fatally injured today when a scaffolding on which they were working gave way as they were painting the outside of the Kings Edward Apartments on the East Side avenue above the ninth floor, and they fell to the ground. A third man on the scaffolding, escaped injury by climbing to the window ledge of the building.

The dead: Roy Wilcox, 32, Gus Olson, 32, who suffered a fractured leg and internal injuries was taken to the Henshaw hospital where it is said he is in a serious condition.

EVANS ACQUITTAL DOES NOT END SUITS

Ebensburg, Pa., June 16 (INS).—Apparently not discouraged by the setback received in the acquittal of the first of 31 defendants charged with murder in connection with the rioting at Lilly, Pa., on the night of April 5, during a Ku Klux Klan demonstration, the state today prepared to fight each individual case to a finish.

This information was given to International News Service by District Attorney D. P. Weimer, who has charge of the commonwealth's case against the 15 Lilly men and 16 Klansmen indicted on charge of murder in connection with the deaths of three Lilly men in the wild turmoil that followed when water was turned on the marching Klansmen. Eleven Klansmen and two Lilly men also indicted have been released from the murder charges by direction of Presiding Judge Finletter.

After Samuel Evans, one of the Klansmen, had been acquitted, by a jury in criminal court here on Saturday, there were rumors that the other cases would be dropped, but Weimer refuted these reports today by stating that he would proceed with all the cases according to law, even to the extent of trying each defendant on the individual murder indictments against him.

This would make 93 jury trials necessary, and would drag the proceedings out for months.

The district attorney declared he would call William Monahan, one of the Lilly men for trial today.

Attorney Philip Sheltz, one of the leading Lilly counsel, said today that little could be proved against any of the defendants in addition to the testimony which was brought out at Evans's trial and was confident of further acquittals.

When court opened today, Weimer called the Monahan case to trial, announcing that he would press the murder and manslaughter indictments against each defendant.

Thirty-one prospective jurors were examined, but only six had been accepted this afternoon.

DOMESTIC TROUBLE CAUSE OF TRAGEDY

Mount Clemens, Mich., June 16 (INS).—Creeping up to the window of a cottage in which two men and their wives were playing cards early today, William Shields, address unknown fired a fusillade into the room, killing one man and one woman and wounding the latter's husband. Shields then ran 100 yards from the place and shot himself fatally.

The dead are: Mrs. Estella Erban, 27, Otto Erban, her husband, is shot through the right shoulder.

The shooting occurred at the cottage of Edward Erban. Shields died later.

He blamed the Erbans for domestic trouble in his family which caused his wife to leave him and seek a divorce, Otto Erban said.

U. S. REPLIES TO JAP PROTEST ON TREATY

Washington, June 16 (INS).—The United States government today replied to the Japanese protest against the Exclusion act in a note handed by Secretary of State Hughes to Ambassador Hamihara for transmission to Tokyo.

The reply was firm but couched in conciliatory terms and denied that the Immigration bill violated any existing treaties between the United States and Japan. Its text will not be announced until it has been received in Tokyo.

The Hughes note will not be made public here until Ambassador Hamihara can cable the text to Tokyo. The United States takes the position in the note that the action of congress in excluding Japanese has thus caused to be one that can be regulated through diplomatic channels.

As to the abrogation of the gentlemen's agreement with Japan, Hughes left this question to be decided later, although it has been the understanding here that the action of congress abrogated the agreement.

Mr. and Mrs. A. O. Brantner announced the birth of a son, Allison O. Jr., at their home 528 Hannah St. on June 13th at 6:30 p. m.

McADOO WILL ENTER NEW YORK MEETING AWAY IN THE LEAD

Big Fight of Democrats
Will Be Over the Ab-
rogation of Two Thirds Majority Rule.

GETTING IN TRIM

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, June 16.—William G. McAdoo will have in excess of 400 votes on the first ballot in the Democratic national convention here next week, Gov. Al Smith will have nearly 300, and the balance will be scattered among a dozen men, favorite sons and dark horses.

This represents today a reconciliation of all the claims, some of them conflicting, made by the McAdoo and Smith leaders, together with the known statistics on instructions which some delegates have received from their state conventions or in their state primaries.

Some of the McAdoo leaders claim that his initial strength will be considerably in excess of the 400. Some of the more enthusiastic claim even that he will poll a majority of the convention—550 on the first ballot, but these claims do not stand up in comparison with the known strength of McAdoo's numerous rivals.

The whole story of the convention, in the opinion of most unprejudiced observers, lies in the ability of McAdoo to hold his strength and increase it after early balloting. The managers of the McAdoo campaign, who have been working industriously in every state to the union for more than a year now, are supremely confident that the initial strength can be held, and increased.

And here is where the McAdoo managers and the managers of other candidacies part company. The anti-McAdoo forces concede without argument that he will lead the early balloting, and many of them conceded that he may at one time or another poll a majority of the 1096 delegates.

But they give him no more. The strength of the forces opposed to McAdoo, they claim, can never be drawn to the McAdoo banner, and these forces constitute more than one-third of the convention. They have counted noses and are supremely confident. Where then, they ask, is McAdoo going to get the votes unless the two-thirds rule is abrogated.

That the McAdoo leaders are cog-

GOVERNOR PINCHOT DEFENDS STATE CODE ON FIRST ANNIVERSARY OF ITS OPERATION

Harrisburg, June 16 (INS).—Declaring that great economies have been effected in every branch of the state government, Governor Pinchot today—the first anniversary of the enactment of the administrative code—issued a statement defending the code and asserting it has put "the state upon a business like basis."

The governor's review of the record of the state government during the past year shows that material reductions have been made in payrolls, traveling expenses, communication service, printing and binding costs and in the state debt itself.

"The code," the Governor asserted, "has made these savings possible by gathering in the loose ends of state government into a compact organization that eliminates former duplications and inefficiencies." The state, he said, is upon a pay-as-you-go basis for the first time in "many, many years."

"A year ago today," the statement reads, "the administrative code went into effect. This code made possible a business organization of the state government in Pennsylvania. Here are a few of the money results of the first year of operation under it:

"The payrolls of the departments working from the general fund for this first year under the code were 10 per cent below the payrolls of the same departments two years ago. This reduction in the payrolls of Harrisburg employees alone amounts to nearly a million dollars ($987,773) in one year. Better service to the state is basic."

President's Secretary Denies He Will Resign

Washington, June 16 (INS).—The discussion and internal warfare that broke out between President Coolidge's campaign managers and advisers at Cleveland over the management of the national convention culminated today in C. Bascom Sloop, Secretary to the President, issuing a formal statement denying he was contemplating resigning his post.

This statement was issued by Mr. Sloop at noon after reports were persistently circulated throughout Washington during the morning that Sloop had decided to quit.

No official information was to be had at the White House concerning any of these reports until the conclusion of a conference between the President and his Secretary, after which the following statement was made by Sloop:

"I am leaving this afternoon for Cincinnati to be present at an operation to be performed on my cousin, P. W. Sloop, now in a hospital there. He is my chief dependent in my business affairs. I am taking Dr. Ogder with me."

"I shall be away several days. The time of my return is in a certain sense on account of this, indefinite."

"When I do return I expect to be actively associated in the campaign and in my present position, which I have not resigned."

"In all probability I will be on the Advisory Committee of the National Republican committee which will have the real management of the campaign."

Special significance was laid on the last sentence of Sloop's statement, as indicating that the advisory committee and not William M. Butler, the Massachusetts capitalist, is to have the determining voice in the management of the Republican campaign.

This represents, in effect at least, a partial victory for the old line Republican leaders, who revolted at Cleveland and refused to follow Butler's leadership or take his orders. Sloop was among those at Cleveland who rebelled at Butler's management, and he left the convention before the nomination of General Charles G. Dawes had been accomplished.

Sloop, according to his political associates, returned from Cleveland fully prepared to resign his post if President Coolidge intended allowing Butler the latitude in the campaign that the New England mill owner exercised at Cleveland. It is understood he even put his resignation in writing.

He made a complete report to the President, after which Mr. Coolidge took Senator Reed Smoot of Utah and Frank W. Mondell, permanent chairman of the convention, on a trip on the Mayflower over the week end.

DISORDERLY HOUSES RAIDED BY SHERIFF AND STATE POLICE

Mount Zion "Chicken
Farm" and "King 8's"
Place at Grampian Are Cleaned Up.

VISITORS JAILED

Sheriff T. J. Lowell, Deputy Sheriff

Hummelsbaugh, State Troopers Barker and Bush, DuBois, Pierce and Tilton, of Ridgway, engineered a couple of raids Saturday night last that resulted in the closing of a couple of "joints" or "neets" in this section that have been causing a lot of just complaint to the authorities.

The first place visited was that on the Mt. Zion ridges, a few hundred yards beyond the end of Martin street, known as the "Chicken Farm," the home of Mrs. Ruth Butler. This place has become quite notorious the past few months, neighbors claiming that on Saturday night a week ago more than 40 men, women and boys congregated at the place and engaged in a moonshine debauch and other orgies.

The officers reached the place at 10:30 Saturday evening, but found nobody about the house but Mrs. Butler and her children. A search of the place resulted in the finding of a plunk of moonshine.

While the officers were there a couple of men drove up in a Ford car and stopping in front of the house started to enter. They were met by the officers. One fellow, who gave his name as George Lewis, of Grampian, Pa., when he saw the officers, pulled a pint of moonshine from his car and threw it away in an attempt to break it. The bottle bounced along over the ground and fetched up against the barn but failed to break. Lewis was then loaded into Corporal Barker's car, while Sheriff Lowell took his companion and Mrs. Butler in his car and took them to jail. Lewis' companion was named.

After these officers had departed another Ford carrying five men said to be from Clearfield drove up to the "chicken farm" and the officers remaining on guard took them into custody when they sought to enter the Butler house. They were also found in possession of a quantity of moonshine and were also trundled off to jail.

"King 8" Is Picked.

After the roundup at the "chicken farm" the officers started for Grampian for the purpose of pulling a restaurant run by a Ruth King, herwise known as "King 8."

The people of Grampian had made general complaint against this place. The sheriff arrived there at 11:50 o'clock and found the restaurant operating a rushing business, with a bonanza of "well lit" customers lounging about. A search of the premises unearthed a five-gallon keg partly full of moonshine, a gallon jug in the same condition, a quart jar and five pint pop bottles full of "shine ready for the trade.

The King woman and a customer named William Pictor, who was "pickled" and got fresh with the officers, were arrested and brought to jail.

The parties were given hearings before Squire Chorpennin this morning with the following results:—The King woman and Mrs. Ruth Butler were each held in $1,000 bail for court and in default of same went to jail for court.

George Lewis, of Rochester Mills, charged with transporting liquor, went to jail in default of $1,000 bail. Blair Shaw, of Clearfield, held for transporting liquor, gave $1,000 bail for his appearance at court.

James Quigley, of Grampian, was fined $15.00; Guy Conway, Lee Shaw and Albert Haney, of Clearfield, each paid $15.00.

A. H. Reed left today for Denver, Colorado, where he goes to visit his son Bruce, who has been a patient at the Fitzsimons Hospital there for the past two and one-half years on account of illness contracted during his service in the World War.

Mr. and Mrs. Aranda Bloom and children, of Paines, visited his sister over Sunday at Dindling Station.

Address by Pastor

The salient points of this speech were the purpose of the Church in its institutions and Wesley Foundations at State Schools, indicated by their endowment in the past four years to the amount of $51,700,000 and the new mind that has possessed the Christian students of its schools, voiced at the Louisville Convention on War, Industry and Unification. Christian Education was stressed strongly and interpreted in objectives for life, the passion for righteousness and the service of our day, which is seeking to eliminate the large profit factor in business.

Offering for Christian Education, the Children's Day fund, which will have to be added to very largely, if Trinity is to send up its proportionate amount.

Song, with recessional of the Beginners, Primary and Junior Schools.
Benediction

The church was decorated in greens. An American flag was displayed in folds from the mural tablet to the Service men. The officers of the school, pastor and congregation appreciate the work of the members of the congregation.

In the evening time, with a number of changes in the congregation, the music was exceptionally strong. Every one enjoyed the selection by the Male Quartette. The sermon was from Acts 7:22 and Hebrews 11:24; in the Training and Choice of Moses, an exposition complimentary to the morning address was worked out to the inspiration and instruction of the people.

This week's events: Wednesday night, congregational mid-week meeting; for the exposition period, the pastor will speak of the visit of Miss Booth to the General Conference. Home Missionary society is postponed to next week. Thirteen registration fees have been paid for the Carrie Barge House party, Williamsport Dickinson Seminary, June 23-30.

CIRCUS CAT ANIMALS GET NO MEAT SUNDAY

It isn't such a bad thing to be an animal baby in a circus zoo, such as the Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace menagerie—especially if the baby happens to be a "cat animal."

Perhaps you don't know it, but the daddy and mother "cat animals" in the menagerie are never fed on Sunday. They are voracious meat eaters and the circus men have discovered by long experience that over-feeding leads to diseases and other ills. And so, as a matter of health, the lions and tigers the panthers and leopards—cat animals—have one day in the week when they are compelled to fast.

During the week, when the hour for feeding the animals approaches, they get restless and roar their impatience. On Sunday, however, they give no heed to the usual feeding hour. They realize that this is fast day.

This abstinence does not apply to the kittens in the big dens. They are fed on Sunday, as on other days, but not on meat. Their mamma's take care of the Sunday dinner for them.

The Hagenbeck-Wallace circus, which exhibits in Clearfield on Monday, June 23, afternoon and night, is said to have an unusual number of baby animals. There are baby lions and baby tigers and baby monkeys and even baby elephants for the delight of the kiddies.

Scores of the interesting animals in the Hagenbeck-Wallace menagerie will be seen in the big street parade which takes place at 11 a. m. on the morning of circus day. The doors open at 1 p. m. and 7 p. m. with the show starting one hour later.

MORE BIRDS - LESS BUGS SLOGAN FOR CAMPAIGN

Harrisburg, June 16, (INS).—"More Birds—Less Bugs" is the slogan adopted by the Board of Game Commissioners, in waging a vigorous campaign against the killing of song and insectivorous birds in the state.

Hundreds of tons of destructive insects are consumed daily by the birds of Pennsylvania, officials of the board assert, and the law provides a fine of $10 for killing protected birds or destroying their nests. The economic value of the birds, is expected to appeal to the persons who do not refrain from killing them because of their beauty and song.

Literature concerning the value of birds has been widely distributed, and recently a special lecturer who will be available one or more times to every Boy Scout Encampment in the state has been employed. The lecturer will devote his time to talk on bird life.

The board commended the newspapers of the state who have conducted bird-house building campaigns, and urged that more such contests be conducted to stimulate interest in caring for the birds.

FLAG DAY EXERCISES FINE

The flag day exercises given under the auspices of Clearfield Lodge of Elks at the Court House square Saturday evening attracted a very large crowd of interested spectators. A pleasing program was given, the chief feature of which was a splendid patriotic address by Hon. A. R. Chase.

ENDS AND THINGS

By A. B. C.

Approach of Saturday evening finds Day celebration by the local Elks Lodge. It might not be out of place to say:

One hundred and forty-nine years ago the hand of a soldier lieutenant on the Colonial ship Katy lying in Delaware river set to the broom for the first time a flag with alternate stripes of red and white. It signified that an American Navy had come into commission with Commodore Saxe Hopkins in command by act of the Continental Congress, and the hand that tagged at the halyards to set the colors flying was that of the executive officer of the ship, John Paul Jones.

That was the beginning of the Stars and Stripes, the flag to which more than 100,000,000 Americans now pay homage. The stripes were there, but the stars of the sovereign independence of the states were still to be set in place. In their stead, the blue field of the banner whipped by the winds of that December day bore the crosses of St. Andrew and St. George, the twin crosses of England—visual assurance that the men of the colonies yet clung to their English faith and origin and were concerned only with securing that freedom to which they were entitled as Englishmen dwelling overseas.

Adopted by Congress

It was a year and a half later that the Stars and Stripes was formally adopted by Congress. Curiously enough neither that banner nor its predecessor was ever carried by troops of the Revolutionary armies. They fought under the flag of their states. It was for the hardy sailors men to carry it around the world and win for it international honors.

Since these days there have become intertwined with the folds of the flag memories of great days and heroic deeds dear to the hearts of all Americans. And from its simple birth—the flag has come to know pomp and pageantry of display and written into the regulations that govern the Army is a complete code of procedure for all occasions where it is officially known.

With all the emphasis Pennsylvania has placed upon the subject of forestry during the last decade there is plenty of evidence to prove that the state is not yet working along this line with the zeal and determination that are necessary to bring the commonwealth back into the place of standing it once occupied as a timber producing state.

Thirty-five years ago Pennsylvania ranked first among the states of the country in lumber production.

Today, 80 per cent of the lumber used in the state is imported from other states or Canadian provinces.

Four years ago with its production of only half a billion feet of lumber

Pennsylvania was twentieth among the states.

Yet, it is not because we don't have the acreage. Only ten million acres of the state's area is under agricultural cultivation which leaves a great domain for reforestation, only a small part of which is now under the supervision of scientific forestry.

Idle acres are costing Pennsylvania the loss of serious revenues to its business interests and compelling these same interests when they are buying lumber to go into a distant market for the same. —Williamsport Sun.

Now there's one thing we never could figure out—is the zebra, black with white stripes or white with black stripes. The HAGENBECK-WALLACE Circus which is coming to Clearfield on Monday, June 23d, has plenty of zebras for one to ponder over and there is one of the sections in the menagerie. On the left is an ape, who has been christened "The Old Soak" because there is nothing he will not drink. The HAGENBECK-WALLACE Circus has almost every species of domestic and jungle animal known to mankind.

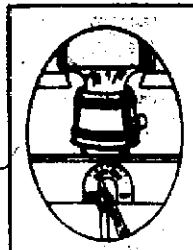

Roast beef and other meats are cooked through thoroughly in the Florence Oven, without burning on the bottom.

Are her summer days spent in a sizzling kitchen?

DO you let your wife keep a stove going in hot weather, except when she is cooking? It is a needless hardship and a useless expense. You can prove this at a nearby store.

When you put a Florence Oil Range in your kitchen, you take most of the drudgery out of housework. This modern stove gives intense heat close up under the cooking. The heat does not go into the metal of the stove or out into the room. You can cook every dish for the biggest dinner, quickly and well.

The Big Burner The heat in the Florence burner is close up under the cooking where it is not wasted.

A blue gas flame

To start the Florence, you merely touch a match to the Asbestos Kindler. The flame is a gas flame, from kerosene vapor. It does not burn from a wick. You can regulate the clear blue flame to any degree of heat. When you are through cooking, just turn out the fire.

There are no ashes or soot, no shaking to be done—just clean heat, where you want it, and only when you want it. The Florence Oil Range cuts down your fuel bills.

Take a look at it

You will find the Florence a beauty, with its sparkling enamel and nickel trimmings. Examine it closely and you will appreciate many exclusive features, such as the unbreakable oil reservoir and the portable oven with the "baker's arch" and patented heat-spreader to assure even cooking.

Don't buy just "an oil stove" until you have seen how the Florence works. Try one yourself right at the store. (Department, furniture or hardware store.)

Florence Oven Attached to each leg of the stove, this device enables you to set the oven level on an uneven floor.

Milk Gives Lime for the Making of Sturdy Frames and Good Teeth in Little Folks

One of the important reasons why your children should have plenty of milk during the growing period of their lives is the fact that milk contains more available lime than any other of the common foods.

As you know, lime is needed for the formation of bone, for the formation of the hard enamel of teeth and lime in your children's diet increases the ability of little bodies to absorb the iron from your other foods.

For the construction of strong sturdy bones for the framework of little bodies and for the making of plenty of enamel for the protection of the teeth from decay, the kiddies should have plenty of good rich milk in their diet.

And milk is the cheapest source of supply for this lime that you can find among any of the common foods.

LOWER MOTOR DEATH RATE

With the actual number of fatalities from automobile accidents increasing month by month, it is encouraging to learn that the percentage is decreasing.

In 1907, when there were only 142,000 cars in the United States, there were 598 deaths from automobile accidents. In 1923 there were 16,700 such deaths—an appalling number. But there were also 15,000,000 motor vehicles of various types in the country. That is, the number of automobiles increased 105 times while the accident toll mounted to only 27 times its earlier rate. The danger attached to every individual car has therefore decreased something like 75 per cent.

All present indications are that motor cars will continue to increase in number. Modern cars are faster moving; present-day streets are more congested. Nevertheless, it should be possible to keep the fatality percentage on the decline. The very danger of the tremendous number of cars and the crowding of thoroughfares will emphasize more and more the need of caution. Wiser traffic laws, stricter enforcement of them, sterner punishment for infringement, thorough education of school children in safety rules and practice will do much to effect a lower automobile death rate.

UNUSED MONEY

An officer of the United States Treasury says there is more than $400,000,000 hoarded in this country by people who distrust banks or are indifferent to the benefits of bank deposits.

Many of them, he says, are plain misers, who love to gloat over their gold, silver and banknotes. About $200,000,000 is stored in cupboards and mattresses of foreign-born residents who are unaccustomed to banks. Farmers are hoarding perhaps $125,000,000.

All of this is understandable. Coins have a pleasant jingle in one's pocket, and to many eyes an engraved greenback or yellow-back is more beautiful than any other work of art. The foreign-born have more excuse for acting as their own bankers than the native-born, because it is often a new thing for them to have money, and often their experiences with petty bankers of their own nationality have been unfortunate. Farmers have poorer banking facilities than other classes.

Yet in nearly all cases, this withholding of money from the bank vaults where it naturally belongs is bad. Money is the chief tool of our economic system. Like any other tool, it is made to use. And unlike other tools, it does not wear out, but grows with use.

It is foolish for the owner of any sum larger than pocket cash to forego the interest it will bear. But there is a stronger reason for banking it. Putting the money into the bank is putting it into circulation and stimulating business. It is using the same money, over and over again, for wages, salaries and the distribution of the necessities of life. The banks cannot lend money to carry on business, or to build houses and develop farms, unless people first deposit it with them.

GOVERNOR PINCHOT
ADDS ONE PER CENT
SALARY INCREASE

Harrisburg, June 16 (U. P.)—Governor Pinchot has added one per cent to the cost of running the state government by his action increasing the salaries of 5,000 of the state employees effective today.

Approximately $100,000 a year must be taken from the general fund of the state treasury to pay the increases, the governor announced.

The increases were granted, he

said, for the following reasons:

1. Because of greater responsibility falling on the individual employee due to change in organization.
2. Because of filling vacancies by promotion in one class from the next lower class.
3. In recognition of special merit and efficiency on the part of the employee.

Nine out of ten persons who were benefited by salary increases had been receiving less than $1200 a year, the governor's figures showed.

The average promotion, he said, amounts to $10.50 a month.

Governor Pinchot compared his

record with that of the previous administration to show the increases do not materially affect his claim for a saving of $40,000 a day.

"The figures for the present biennium," said the governor, "show pay-rolls from the general fund 16 per cent below those of the first year of the last biennium. With the increases the total is still 15 per cent less than for the first year of the last biennium."

NOT SO CONTRARY

By FLORENCE DAVIES
Is there a streak of the contrary in all of us, or can we find a gentler name for the quality that resents doing what it's told to do?

"We never had any trouble getting Jane off to bed early," said the mother of a girl in her teens. "We just pictured staying up late as a punishment. That made going to bed early seem the greatest privilege."

Whether or not that is sound child psychology, it certainly does represent a common trait. We do want to do the thing we are told not to do.

It's just that which has made prohibition cause so much trouble, some people say.

But perhaps we can find a gentler name for this trait than obstinacy.

Perhaps, in fact, the contrary child isn't so contrary as she is anxious to express her own individuality.

If, somehow, we can let a child

arrive at a conclusion alone, the rest is easy.

It's very natural to resent force of any kind. Once the will to act comes from within, the action takes care of itself.

And yet, time and time again, parents willfully crush a child's self-respect, robbing him of the illusion that he has made his own decisions about a matter, when just a little patience and a little tact could have accomplished that end.

It's hard for grown people to measure up to that most difficult of all the bestitudes, "Eloased are the meek" and children find it no easier to make graceful concessions to a will other than their own.

The thing we call obstinacy or perversity, or just plain contrariness in children is often no willful meanness. It is merely a fierce struggle to originate their own actions. Once we understand this fact and use it, half the battles with childhood are won.

ROUND THE GLOBE BY AIR

In the first week of April four air men will fly from San Diego to Seattle. There they will hop off to the extreme end of the Aleutian group. Success is no far, the broken will go on to Kamchatka, the long peninsula hanging like an icicle from the coast of Siberia. The next landing place will be in Japan. Again the hazards of the sea will be challenged. The flyers will make for Oculutta. India will be around. A descent will be made at a point on the Persian gulf. From this place, Constantinople is to be aimed for. Rapidly, flight will be taken over several European countries until London is reached. Once more a sea flight is to be undertaken, this time to Iceland, thence to Greenland, then over to British America, down the shores of Labrador to Canada, from Canada into the United States and to the place of beginning at San Diego. Aerial navigation has reached that stage where the pilots will not be satisfied until they have demonstrated their ability to fly around the globe. They have confidence in their ability, faith in their machines, the desire to attempt what long has been only a dream of novelists. Whether this voyage turns out according to plans and hopes, the thing will be no accomplished some day soon. It is too good a chance to be ignored. It is too good a chance for distinction for the birdmen to leave to another generation.

In early days the wooden sailing ships engaged in the whaling industry in southern seas pursued only right whales and sperm whales of certain lots. The so-called "finners," such as the blue whale, the largest animal in the world; the humpback whale, the small fish whale, and the beluga, were all too active and so they were when killed. Says the Fish and Game News: But their time has now come for the whale. A small body of whalers, armed with modern whaling cannons, the humpback, the blue whale, and the beluga, are kept aloft by motor launch with a through pipes from the bottom of the whaler. The whaling is now done in a factory on shore. A special barge is towed to the harbor. Besides the whaling which no longer pursued at all, and the oil, which is graded into grades as it comes from the blubber, the tongue and bones, the blubber, the dried flesh and bones which are now also put to commercial use. The fresh fish is used to make white meat meal.

The contest for the prizes offered by the American Railway association for the most appropriate poster and slogan for use in the intensive campaign against crossing accidents, which is now on as a plain duty to the big offense, is a very competitive effort. At present rate of crossing accidents and fighting in the increase of automobiles it is estimated that in 1934 2,500 persons or more than 200 a month, will be killed and 100,000 injured. The great majority of such deaths and injuries will come from automobile accidents. The ghastly tragedy of crossing accidents is that they are avoidable. Much good can be done by preparing and circulating a poster that will impress the beholder with the danger of carelessness at crossings. A slogan should be devised that will burn into the mind of the motorist the fact that his own death will be the cost of carelessness.

Governments should estimate that more than $100,000,000 is stolen from small investors in America last year by swindlers and promoters of highly speculative ventures. The money is taken from a man's life savings, the life savings of a family, the life savings of a community. The swindler's sum was a blow to the investor's confidence in the future. It has been investigated before such investigations, they would not have been made. There are abundant opportunities for such investigation. Banks throughout the country stand ready to advise applicants as to ventures concerning which they may inquire. Government agencies are ready to aid in detecting fraud. Failure to make proper investigation before investing money is the fault of the investor.

What's in a Name?

ANNETTE

FRANCE is responsible for the dashing little name Annette, which conjures up visions of a slim, chic creature of flashing eyes and saucy smile. The very sound of the name seems to preclude any relationship with demure Anne, but they have a common origin in the Hebrew word meaning "grace", which the Irish have identified with their native Aine (Joy).

The name from which Annette was evolved was first used in France after a supposed appearance of the good St. Anne to two children at Auray in Brittany, and first gained vogue as a feminine name through the Bretonne heiress, twice queen of France. Its popularity in court circles insured its widespread usage among all classes in France.

Scotland adopted it in preference to the English Anne, calling it Annet. It penetrated England without change of form and, curiously enough, in view of Anglo-Saxon distaste for Gallic names, maintained its original form. In this country, it is bestowed without reference to its foreign flavor, and is almost never used as a derivative of Aine.

The yellow jacinth is Annette's talismanic gem. It will protect her against lightning and insure her safety in traveling. At the approach of danger or disease it is said to pale in color. Saturday is her lucky day and 1 her lucky number.

The Why of Superstitions

By H IRVING KING

IVY

IN NEW ENGLAND there is a popular superstition that it is unlucky to keep ivy in the house and that ivy is unlucky as a gift. At first it seems strange to see the idea of bad luck associated with ivy, which plant decorated the thyrus of Pegasus and the leaves of which the Romans mingled with the laurel in their victor's crowns.

All popular superstitions have an origin, which origin must be searched for in remote past almost without exception. They are inheritances. Those which at first glance appear to be modern will upon investigation, generally be found to be most ancient in their roots. Thus the idea that the eating of tomatoes produces cancer, a few years ago a most common superstition and one which would appear to date only from the comparatively recent time when tomatoes were first used as food, is, in reality, merely an application of one of man's earliest conceptions, that of the primitive magic which is known as homeopathic—like producing like.

So there is some ancient cause for the ivy superstition. It would appear to be a lingering echo of an historical incident which rendered at the time the generally esteemed and venerated ivy a most unsafe and unlucky plant to have in one's possession. About two hundred years before the Christ-

JORDAN'S

AMERICA'S HOPES SAIL FOR OLYMPIC FIELDS OF HONOR

New York, June 16. (INS.)—Brilliant of confidence, the greatest array ever sent from America in quest of Olympic titles sailed on the liner America from Hoboken at noon today.

From practically every state and territorial possession has this formidable army of 253 athletes been recruited. In addition to the track and field team there were gymnasts, boxers, wrestlers, swimmers, cyclists, and equestrians.

The feeling among the American athletes just before sailing time was that if they were beaten in any event the victor would have to set a new mark. This feeling of record-shattering marks is justified, athletes say, because of the remarkable performance turned in at the tryouts at the Harvard stadium last Saturday.

The tryouts removed the last doubt as to the ability of American athletes to hold their own. In these tryouts world's records and American records went by the board while Olympic standards were surpassed.

The committee announced three additions to the track team—Basil Irwin of the Newark A. C., who will compete in the 3000 meter steeplechase; Ben Owen, University of Pennsylvania, a candidate for pole vault honors; and Caleb F. Gates, Princeton, will seek laurels in hammer throw.

The athletes will not lack proper training facilities while they are on the ocean. Every provision has been made for the athletes to keep themselves in good shape on the America. The liner has been fitted up with a running track encircling the superstructure; a boxing ring has been fitted up on one of the decks; a swimming tank has been installed; padded rings installed for the wrestlers and weight throwers will be able to practice their swings in special constructed rings.

Scores of enthusiasts will accompany the team, as well as handlers, rubbers and other attendants.

REFRIGERATOR ROBBERS TO BE ROUNDED UP

A gang of boys and young men living in the upper end of town have been rifling refrigerators and back porches in the Reedsville and upper South Second street sections for some time, and their depredations have become so exasperating and annoying that steps are about to be taken to bring the guilty ones to justice and thus break up the practice.

Last evening the refrigerator at A. L. Moore's residence was robbed of several cantaloupes and other eatables. An attempt was made to rob the refrigerator at G. Webb Shillingford's at the same time but Alex Spence nabbed the lad in the act. He allowed the boy to go before he learned that Moore's had been robbed.

Last Saturday night milk, butter and other eatables were stolen in the same section and unless these boys of the parents call and see Mr. Spence about settling for the stuff and guaranteeing a breaking up of the practice a warrant will be issued for the boy caught at Shillingford's and he will be made to tell on his pals and the whole gang rounded up.

It is high time this petty stealing is broken up and the parents of the boys involved will save time, trouble and worry by assisting in the work of putting an end to it.

FORMER CLEARFIELD COUNTY MEN JAILED

Pittsburg, Pa., June 14. (INS.)—Guckenhimer and Bros. Co. distillers of Freeport, Pa., and six individuals found guilty of conspiracy in connection with the withdrawal of thousands of gallons of whiskey from their warehouses on forged and counterfeit permits, were sentenced here today in federal court by Judge Schoonmaker. The following sentences were imposed:

Louis Farkas, president of the company, $10,000 and two years in the federal prison at Atlanta; Louis Brown, a director of the company, $10,000 fine and two years in Atlanta; E. C. Little, $2,000 and one year and one day at Atlanta; George Beck, six months in the county jail; William J. Ferris, two years at Atlanta and William Dickerman, $2,000 and one year and one day at Atlanta.

The Guckenhimer Corporation was sentenced to pay a fine of $10,000, the maximum sentence. Joseph Tico also convicted, was unable to appear in court because of illness and will be sentenced on June 23.

Farkas formerly conducted a wholesale liquor store in Clearfield and also had a beer license for awhile at Winburne. Ferris ran the Cliff House at Houtdale, before becoming a "dry enforcement" officer.

Pimples

BLOOD impurities are passed by the heart into the skin. That is what causes that ugly appearance, that maddening, annoying, pimply, blackheads, acne, red spots, and that impossible "something" which no face cream, massage, or face powder can cover up or beautify. The foundation for a beautiful skin simply is not there, and no face treatment can give it to you. But increase your red blood cells, and quickly the ugly blot of purity begins to glow in the cheeks, the complexion becomes rosy, pink-like and beautiful. Try it. It will do it every time. S.S.S. builds the red blood cells you need for a beautiful complexion. Begin using S.S.S. at once, and give yourself what you have been working for, for years.

LA FOLLETTE BOOM IS GETTING READY TO BLOSSOM FORTH

Time for a Formal Announcement Approaching,
While Supporters
Get Details In Hand.

PLATFORM READY

By H. J. REYNOLDS
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)
Washington, June 16.—As the time approaches for the formal announcement of Senator Robert M. La Fol-lette's presidential candidacy, his friends here are giving increasing attention to the details of his campaign.
Chief among these are (1) the manner in which the La Follette electors will be placed upon the ballots in the several states, and (2) the selection of a running mate.

The writing of the La Follette platform presents no difficulties. It has already been written, made public at Cleveland in the course of the efforts of the Wisconsin insurgents to have it adopted by the Republican party,
and with slight changes will be ready for presentation to the country as the platform of the new third party.

The La Follette electors are expected to be nominated by petition in the states where the law permits this procedure. Friends of the Wisconsin Senator have been busy for the past month studying the election laws of various states so that when the time comes to circulate their petitions, the path for the work will be marked out and ready.

In view of Senator La Follette's almost complete silence since his announcement on May 28 that he might be a third party candidate for the presidency little is known here as to his desires with respect to the selection of a third party candidate for vice president. If it is determined that some one should appear in the second place in the ticket, the naming of this man probably will be left entirely to the judgment of Senator La Follette himself.

There will be no national convention to do the nominating in the sense that the Republican and Democratic parties hold the national conventions.
Endorsement of La Follette is expected, both by the Conference for Progressive Political Action, meeting in Cleveland on July 4, and the Farmer-Labor-Progressive convention, which meets in St. Paul tomorrow, but neither of these gatherings is in a position to make an actual nomination of a vice presidential candidate. At a word from La Follette, however, the Cleveland convention may designate some one as the senator's running mate.

Among those who were suggested here today for second place on the third party ticket were: William H.
Johnston, president of the International Association of Machinists and chairman of the forthcoming progressive conference at Cleveland; Warren
E. Stone, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Firemen; George Huddleston, Democratic Congressman from Alabama
and one of the organizers, with La Follette, of the Conference for Progressive Political Action; Senator George W. Norris and Senator Robert
B. Howell, both Nebraska Republicans with an insurgent leaning; Senator Smith W. McKim, of Iowa, one of the Republicans aligned with La Follette and the insurgent bloc in the Senate; Senator Lynn J. Frazier, of North Dakota, another member of this bloc, and a consistent opponent of the Coolidge administration; and Huston Thompson, of Colorado, Democrat and chairman of the federal trade commission.

ATLANTIC CITY EXCURSION

The P. R. E. Co., ran a two day excursion to Atlantic City, leaving here Saturday night at 9 o'clock and returning early this morning. There were eleven cars on the train and seven of these were filled with passengers when they left Clearfield.

NEW FRENCH CABINET DOWN TO BUSINESS

Paris, June 16 (INS).—After a fortnight of domestic political turmoil, the cabinet today plunged into an accumulation of home and foreign problems with the determination of settling them as speedily as possible.
Premier Edouard Herriot's new ministry held its first formal council at the Elysee Palace to draw up the program which will be presented to the Chamber of Deputies.

The Cabinet, after two hours discussion, approved the outline of a long ministerial declaration detailing the precise domestic and foreign policies that M. Herriot's government will follow. A complete copy will be handed to President Doumergue this evening. It will be read in the Senate as well as the Chamber tomorrow.

After the cabinet council Premier Herriot said he planned to visit Brussels either immediately before or after his conference in London. His conversations with Belgian statesmen will deal with reparations and Ruhr occupation.

Premier Herriot is expected to read
the government's declaration of policy
in the Chamber tomorrow afternoon
and debate upon it will open at once.
As the left bloc is in control in the chamber the opposition will have no chance to upset any part of the government's program.

The next few days will be spent in dealing with domestic business. It is not expected that the Government will tackle any phase of the reparations issue until after conference with Premier MacDonald in London at the end of this week.

Premier Herriot has already pledged his support to the Dawes Reparation plan.

I. W. W. IN ATTEMPT TO DYNAMITE MORGUE

San Pedro, Calif., June 16 (INS).— Armed military and police guards stood watch at San Pedro today over the morgue where the bodies of the 48
gunners killed in the U. S. S. Mississippi explosion are resting, following storming of the morgue and threats to blow it up by alleged I. W. W.
Members.

"It should be 4800 dead instead of 48," police said the "Radicals" had shouted at the door of the morgue.
Police and sailor guards were rushed to the morgue after police had dispersed an alleged I. W. W. mob and frustrated a plot to blast the building.

The plot, according to police was to avenge breaking up of a meeting Saturday night in I. W. W. hall when 300 citizens and sailors wrecked the building. Six of the alleged radicals were beaten and then tarred and feathered.

The authorities said today the "radicals" and sailors had been warring for weeks, following the ousting of a sailor from the I. W. W. hall, because it was claimed, he resented attacks on the American navy and the flag.

POPULATION INCREASES 1,943,000 DURING 1923; NEW RECORD IS MADE; TOTAL NOW 112,826,000

New York, June 15.—The population of the United States
increased 1,943,000 during 1923, according to estimates announced
today by the national bureau of economic research. January 1, 1924, the total population was 112,826,000, figures show.
In the latter half of 1923 a net increase of 1,162,000 was recorded. This was the greatest growth for a six months' period
in history, the report stated.
The unusual increase is attributed to the heavy excess of immigration over emigration and the lowest death rate which ever prevailed.

U. S. AMBASSADOR TO MEXICO ASKS TO BE RELIEVED OF JOB

Charles Beecher Warren
Tenders His Resignation
from Position to President Coolidge.

AN ABLE DIPLOMAT

Washington, June 6 (INS).—Chas.
Beecher Warren, the United States
Ambassador to Mexico, who plans to resign that post soon, has been presented today by President Coolidge to withhold his formal resignation for the present, it was learned here today.
In the meantime, Warren will come to Washington from his home in Detroit for conferences with the President and Secretary Hughes and will then return temporarily to Mexico City.

Washington, June 16 (INS).—Chas.
Beecher Warren, the United States
Ambassador to Mexico, has tendered his resignation to President Coolidge, effective July 1, it was learned here today.

Drafted into the American diplomatic service by the late President Harding, Warren served with distinction as ambassador to Japan, resigning a year ago to return to private life.

When definite steps were undertaken by Secretary of State Hughes to enter into certain engagements with Mexico preparatory to the establishment of diplomatic relations with the Oregon governor, Warren was recalled to public service and sent to Mexico City with Judge John Burton Payne to draft these agreements for the "Treaty of Commerce" between Mexico and the United States.

Again he returned to private life
and again he was recalled, this time
by President Coolidge, to be the first American ambassador to Mexico since the beginning of the revolutionary troubles several years ago.

So high a regard did Mr. Coolidge have of Warren's ability as a diplomat that he picked him as chairman of the committee which wrote the Republican platform at the Cleveland convention.

Ambassador Warren naturally was the center of all the disagreements among party leaders as to what should go into the platform and what should be left out.

Officially, however, Warren's resignation was based on his desire to again return to private life and to look after his personal business affairs in view of the fact that friendly and cordial diplomatic relations had now been established between the United States and Mexico. This was the job he was assigned to, and he believes it has been very nearly accomplished.

Warren will return to Mexico City
to wind up the affairs there in which he is personally interested and will then return to Detroit, where he makes his home.

The United States probably will be represented at Mexico City until December by a charge d'affaires, as the appointment of an ambassador could not be confirmed by the Senate until the new congress meets.

President Coolidge has not yet accepted Ambassador Warren's resignation, and it was said at the White House today that an effort might be made to get him to remain in the diplomatic service.

PAINTER KILLED IN FALL

Pittsburgh, June 16 (INS).—One man was instantly killed and another was said to have been fatally injured today when a scaffolding on which they were working gave way as they were painting the outside of the King Edward Apartments on the East Side avenue above the ninth floor, and they fell to the ground. A third man on the scaffolding, escaped injury by climbing to the window ledge of the building.

The dead: Roy Wilcox, 32, Gus Olson, 32, who suffered a fractured leg and internal injuries was taken to the Hennepine hospital where it is said
he is in a serious condition.

EVANS ACQUITTAL DOES NOT END SUITS

Ebensburg, Pa., June 16 (INS).— Apparently not discouraged by the setback received in the acquittal of the first of 31 defendants charged with murder in connection with the rioting at Lilly, Pa., on the night of April 5, during a Ku Klux Klan demonstration, the state today prepared to fight each individual case to a finish.

This information was given to International News Service by District Attorney D. P. Weimer, who has charge of the commonwealth's case against the 15 Lilly men and 16 Klansmen indicted on charge of murder in connection with the deaths of three Lilly men in the wild turmoil that followed when water was turned on the marching klansmen. Eleven klansmen and two Lilly men also indicted have been released from the murder charges by direction of Presiding Judge Finletter.

After Samuel Evans, one of the klansmen, had been acquitted, by a jury in criminal court here on Saturday, there were rumors that the other cases would be dropped, but Weimer refuted these reports today by stating that he would proceed with all the cases according to law, even to the extent of trying each defendant on the individual murder indictments against him.

This would make 93 jury trials necessary, and would drag the proceedings out for months.

The district attorney declared he would call William Monahan, one of the Lilly men for trial today.

Attorney Philip Sheltz, one of the leading Lilly counsel, said today that little could be proved against any of the defendants in addition to the testimony which was brought out at Evans's trial and was confident of further acquittals.

When court opened today, Weimer called the Monahan case to trial, announcing that he would press the murder and manslaughter indictments against each defendant.

Thirty-one prospective jurors were examined, but only six had been accepted this afternoon.

DOMESTIC TROUBLE CAUSE OF TRAGEDY

Mount Clemens, Mich., June 16
(INS).—Creeping up to the window of a cottage in which two men and their wives were playing cards early today, William Shields, address unknown fired a fusillade into the room, killing one man and one woman and wounded the latter's husband. Shields then ran 100 yards from the place and shot himself fatally.

The dead are:
Mrs. Estella Erban, 27, Otto Erban, her husband, is shot through the right shoulder.

The shooting occurred at the cottage of Edward Erban.
Shields died later.

He blamed the Erbans for domestic trouble in his family which caused his wife to leave him and seek a divorce, Otto Erban said.

U. S. REPLIES TO JAP PROTEST ON TREATY

Washington, June 16 (INS).—The United States government today replied to the Japanese protest against the Exclusion act in a note handed by Secretary of State Hughes to Ambasador Hamihara for transmission to Tokio.

The reply was firm but couched in conciliatory terms and denied that the Immigration bill violated any existing treaties between the United States and Japan. Its text will not be announced until it has been received in Tokio.

The Hughes note will not be made public here until Ambassador Hamihara can cable the text to Tokio.

The United States takes the position
in the note that the action of congress in excluding Japanese has thus caused to be one that can be regulated thru diplomatic channels.

M'ADOO WILL ENTER NEW YORK MEETING AWAY IN THE LEAD

Big Fight of Democrats
Will Be Over the Ab-
rogation of Two Thirds Majority Rule.

GETTING IN TRIM

By GEORGE R. HOLMES
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, June 16.—William G.
McAdoo will have in excess of 400
votes on the first ballot in the Democratic national convention here next week, Gov. Al Smith will have nearly 300, and the balance will be scattered among a dozen men, favorite sons and dark horses.

This represents today a reconciliation of all the claims, some of them
conflicting, made by the McAdoo and Smith leaders, together with the known statistics on instructions which some delegates have received from their state conventions or in their state primaries.

Some of the McAdoo leaders claim that his initial strength will be considerably in excess of the 400. Some of the more enthusiastic claim even that he will poll a majority of the convention—550 on the first ballot, but these claims do not stand up in comparison with the known strength of McAdoo's numerous rivals.

The whole story of the convention,
in the opinion of most unprejudiced
observers, lies in the ability of Mc-Adoo to hold his strength and increase it after early balloting. The managers of the McAdoo campaign,
who have been working industriously
in every state to the union for more than a year now, are supremely confident that the initial strength can be held, and increased.

And here is where the McAdoo managers and the managers of other candidacies part company.

The anti-McAdoo forces concede
without argument that he will lead
the early balloting, and many of them conceded that he may at one time or another poll a majority of the 1096
delegates.

But they give him no more. The strength of the forces opposed to Mc-Adoo, they claim, can never be drawn to the McAdoo banner, and these forces constitute more than one-third of the convention. They have counted noses and are supremely confident.
Where then, they ask, is McAdoo going to get the votes unless the two-thirds rule is abrogated.

That the McAdoo leaders are cog-

President's Secretary Denies He Will Resign

Washington, June 16 (INS).—The dissection and internal warfare that broke out between President Cool-idge's campaign managers and advisers at Cleveland over the management of the national convention culminated today in C. Bascom Sloop, Secretary to the President, issuing a formal statement denying he was contemplating resigning his post.

This statement was issued by Mr.
Sloop at noon after reports were persistently circulated throughout Washington during the morning that Sloop
had decided to quit.

No official information was to be had at the White House concerning any of these reports until the conclusion of a conference between the President and his Secretary, after which the following statement was made by Sloop:

"I am leaving this afternoon for Cincinnati to be present at an operation to be performed on my cousin, P.
W. Sloop, now in a hospital there. He is my chief dependent in my business affairs. I am taking Dr. Ogder with me.

"I shall be away several days. The time of my return is in a certain sense
on account of this, indefinite.

"When I do return I expect to be actively associated in the campaign and in my present position, which I have not resigned.

"In all probability I will be on the Advisory Committee of the National Republican committee which will have the real management of the campaign."

Special significance was laid on the last sentence of Sloop's statement, as indicating that the advisory committee and not William M. Butler, the Massachusetts capitalist, is to have the determining voice in the management of the Republican campaign.

This represents, in effect at least,
a partial victory for the old line Republican leaders, who revolted at Cleveland and refused to follow Butler's leadership or take his orders.
Sloop was among those at Cleveland who rebelled at Butler's management, and he left the convention before the nomination of General
Charles G. Dawes had been accomplished.

Sloop, according to his political associates, returned from Cleveland fully prepared to resign his post if President Coolidge intended allowing Butler the latitude in the campaign that the New England mill owner exercised at Cleveland. It is understood
he even put his resignation in writing.

He made a complete report to the President, after which Mr. Coolidge took Senator Reed Smoot of Utah and Frank W. Mondell, permanent chairman of the convention, on a trip on the Mayflower over the week end.

DISORDERLY HOUSES RAIDED BY SHERIFF AND STATE POLICE

Mount Zion "Chicken
Farm" and "King 8's"
Place at Grampian Are Cleaned Up.

VISITORS JAILED

Sheriff T. J. Lowell, Deputy Sheriff
Hummelsbaugh, State Troopers Barker and Bush, DuBois; Pierce and Tif-ton, of Ridgway, engineered a couple of raids Saturday night last that resulted in the closing of a couple of "joints" or "neets" in this section that have been causing a lot of just complaint to the authorities.

The first place visited was that on the Mt. Zion ridges, a few hundred yards beyond the end of Martin street, known as the "Chicken Farm," the home of Mrs. Ruth Butler. This place has become quite notorious the past few months, neighbors claiming that on Saturday night a week ago more than 40 men, women and boys congregated at the place and engaged in a moonshine debauch and other orgies.

The officers reached the place at 10:30 Saturday evening, but found nobody about the house but Mrs. Butler and her children. A search of the place resulted in the finding of a plug of moonshine.

While the officers were there a couple of men drove up in a Ford car and stopping in front of the house started to enter. They were met by the officers. One fellow, who gave his name
as George Lewis, of Grampian, Pa., when he saw the officers, pulled a pint of moonshine from his car and threw it away in an attempt to break
it. The bottle bounced along over the ground and fetched up against the barn but failed to break. Lewis was then loaded into Corporal Barker's car, while Sheriff Lowell took the companion and Mrs. Butler in his car and took them to jail. Lewis' companion was named.

After these officers had departed
another Ford carrying five men said to be from Clearfield drove up to the "chicken farm" and the officers remaining on guard took them into embodiment when they sought to enter the Butler house. They were also found in possession of a quantity of moonshine and were also trundled off to jail.

"King 8's" Is Picked.
After the roundup at the "chicken
farm" the officers started for Grampian
for the purpose of pulling a restaurant run by a Ruth King. Her-wise known as "King 8's."

The people of Grampian had made general complaint against this place.
The sheriff arrived there at 11:50
o'clock and found the restaurant operating a rushing business, with a houseful of "well lit" customers lounging about. A search of the premises unearthed a five-gallon keg partly full of moonshine, a gallon jug in the same condition, a quart jar and five pint bottles full of "shine ready for the trade.

The King woman and a customer named William Pictor, who was
"pickled" and got fresh with the officers, were arrested and brought to jail.

The parties were given hearings before Squire Chorpennin this morning with the following results:—
The King woman and Mrs. Ruth Butler were each held in $1,000 bail for court and in default of same went to jail for court.

Harrisburg, June 16 (INS).—Declaring that great economies have been effected in every branch of the state government, Governor Pinchot
today—the first anniversary of the enactment of the administrative code—
issued a statement defending the code
and asserting it has put "the state
upon a business like basis."

The governor's review of the results of the state government during the past year shows that material reductions have been made in payrolls,
traveling expenses, communication service, printing and binding costs and in the state debt itself.

"The code," the Governor asserted,
"has made these savings possible by gathering in the loose ends of state government into a compact organization that eliminates former duplications and inefficiencies." The state
he said, is upon a pay-as-you-go basis for the first time in "many, many years."

"A year ago today," the statement reads, "the administrative code went into effect. This code made possible
a business organization of the state government in Pennsylvania. Here are a few of the money results of the first year of operation under it:

"The payrolls of the departments working from the general fund for this first year under the code were 10 per cent below the payrolls of the same departments two years ago. This reduction in the payrolls of Harrisburg employees alone amounts to nearly a million dollars ($987,773) in one year. Better service to the state is basic."

Address by Pastor
The salient points of this speech were the purpose of the Church in its institutions and Wesley Foundations at State Schools, indicated by their endowment in the past four years to the amount of $51,700,000 and the new mind that has possessed the Christian students of its schools, voiced at the Louisville Convention on War, Industry and Unification. Christian Education was stressed strongly and interpreted in objectives for life, the passion for righteousness and the service of our day, which is seeking to eliminate the large profit factor in business.

Offering for Christian Education, the Children's Day fund, which will have to be added to very largely, if Trinity is to send up its proportionate amount.

Song, with recessional of the Beginners, Primary and Junior Schools.
Benediction

The church was decorated in greens. An American flag was displayed in folds from the mural tablet to the service men. The officers of the school, pastor and congregation appreciate the work of the members of the congregation.

In the evening time, with a number of changes in the congregation, the music was exceptionally strong. Every one enjoyed the selection by the Male Quartette. The sermon was from Acts 7:22 and Hebrews 11:24; in the Training and Choice of Moses, an exposition complimentary to the morning address was worked out to the inspiration and instruction of the people.

This week's events: Wednesday night, congregational mid-week meeting; for the exposition period, the pastor will speak of the visit of Miss Booth to the General Conference. Home Missionary society is postponed to next week. Thirteen registration fees have been paid for the Carrie Barge House party, Williamsport Dickinson Seminary, June 23-30.

CIRCUS CAT ANIMALS GET NO MEAT SUNDAY

It isn't such a bad thing to be an animal baby in a circus zoo, such as the Carl Hagenbeck-Wallace menagerie—especially if the baby happens to be a "cat animal."

Perhaps you don't know it, but the daddy and mother "cat animals" in the menagerie are never fed on Sunday. They are voracious meat eaters and the circus men have discovered by long experience that over-feeding leads to diseases and other ills. And so, as a matter of health, the lions and tigers the panthers and leopards—cat animals—have one day in the week when they are compelled to fast.

During the week, when the hour for feeding the animals approaches, they get restless and roar their impatience. On Sunday, however, they give no heed to the usual feeding hour. They realize that this is fast day.

This abstinence does not apply to the kittens in the big dens. They are fed on Sunday, as on other days, but not on meat. Their mamma's take care of the Sunday dinner for them.

The Hagenbeck-Wallace circus, which exhibits in Clearfield on Monday, June 23, afternoon and night, is said to have an unusual number of baby animals. There are baby lions and baby tigers and baby monkeys and even baby elephants for the delight of the kiddies.

Scores of the interesting animals in the Hagenbeck-Wallace menagerie will be seen in the big street parade which takes place at 11 a. m. on the morning of circus day. The doors open at 1 p. m. and 7 p. m. with the show starting one hour later.

MORE BIRDS - LESS BUGS SLOGAN FOR CAMPAIGN

Harrisburg, June 16, (INS).—"More Birds—Less Bugs" is the slogan adopted by the Board of Game Commissioners, in waging a vigorous campaign against the killing of song and insectivorous birds in the state.

Hundreds of tons of destructive insects are consumed daily by the birds of Pennsylvania, officials of the board assert, and the law provides a fine of $10 for killing protected birds or destroying their nests. The economic value of the birds, is expected to appeal to the persons who do not refrain from killing them because of their beauty and song.

Literature concerning the value of birds has been widely distributed, and recently a special lecturer who will be available one or more times to every Boy Scout Encampment in the state has been employed. The lecturer will devote his time to talks on bird life.

The board commended the newspapers of the state who have conducted bird-house building campaigns, and urged that more such contests be conducted to stimulate interest in caring for the birds.

FLAG DAY EXERCISES FINE

The flag day exercises given under the auspices of Clearfield Lodge of Elks at the Court House square Saturday evening attracted a very large crowd of interested spectators. A pleasing program was given, the chief feature of which was a splendid patriotic address by Hon. A. R. Chase.

ENDS AND THINGS

By A. B. C.

Approach of Saturday evening flags Day celebration by the local. Elks Lodge, it might not be out of place to say:

One hundred and forty-nine years ago the hand of a soldier lieutenant on the Colonial ship Katy lying in Delaware river set to the brocade for the first time a flag with alternate stripes of red and white. It signified that an American Navy had come into commission with Commodore S. S. Hopkins in command by act of the Continental Congress, and the hand that tagged at the halyards to set the colors flying was that of the executive officer of the ship, John Paul Jones.

That was the beginning of the Stars and Stripes, the flag to which more than 100,000,000 Americans now pay homage. The stripes were there, but the stars of the sovereign independence of the states were still to be set in place. In their stead, the blue field of the banner whipped by the winds of that December day bore the crosses of St. Andrew and St. George, the twin crosses of England—visual assurance that the men of the colonies yet clung to their English faith and origin and were concerned only with securing that freedom to which they were entitled as Englishmen dwelling overseas.

Adopted by Congress

It was a year and a half later that the Stars and Stripes was formally adopted by Congress. Curiously enough neither that banner nor its predecessor was ever carried by troops of the Revolutionary armies. They fought under the flag of their states. It was for the hardy sailors men to carry it around the world and win for it international honors.

Since these days there have become intertwined with the folds of the flag memories of great days and heroic deeds dear to the hearts of all Americans. And from its simple birth—the flag has come to know pomp and pageantry of display and written into the regulations that govern the Army is a complete code of procedure for all occasions where it is officially known.

With all the emphasis Pennsylvania has placed upon the subject of forestry during the last decade there is plenty of evidence to prove that the state is not yet working along this line with the zeal and determination that are necessary to bring the commonwealth back into the place of standing it once occupied as a timber producing state.

Thirty-five years ago Pennsylvania ranked first among the states of the country in lumber production.

Today, 80 per cent of the lumber used in the state is imported from other states or Canadian provinces.

Four years ago with its production of only half a billion feet of lumber

Pennsylvania was twentieth among the states.

Yet, it is not because we don't have the acreage. Only ten million acres of the state's area is under agricultural cultivation which leaves a great domain for reforestation, only a small part of which is now under the supervision of scientific forestry.

Idle acres are costing Pennsylvania the loss of serious revenues to its business interests and compelling these same interests when they are buying lumber to go into a distant market for the same. —Williamsport Sun.

Now there's one thing we never could figure out—is the zebra, black with white stripes or white with black stripes. The HAGENBECK-WALLACE Circus which is coming to Clearfield on Monday, June 23d, has plenty of zebras for one to ponder over and there is one of the sections in the menagerie. On the left is an ape, who has been christened "The Old Soak" because there is nothing he will not drink. The HAGENBECK-WALLACE Circus has almost every species of domestic and jungle animal known to mankind.

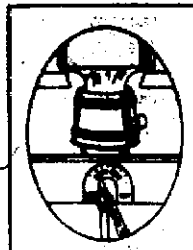

Roast beef and other meats are cooked through thoroughly in the Florence Oven, without burning on the bottom.

Are her summer days spent in a sizzling kitchen?

DO you let your wife keep a stove going in hot weather, except when she is cooking? It is a needless hardship and a useless expense. You can prove this at a nearby store.

When you put a Florence Oil Range in your kitchen, you take most of the drudgery out of housework. This modern stove gives intense heat close up under the cooking. The heat does not go into the metal of the stove or out into the room. You can cook every dish for the biggest dinner, quickly and well.

The Big Secret The heat in the Florence Range is close up under the cooking where it is not wasted.

A blue gas flame

To start the Florence, you merely touch a match to the Asbestos Kindler. The flame is a gas flame, from kerosene vapor. It does not burn from a wick. You can regulate the clear blue flame to any degree of heat. When you are through cooking, just turn out the fire.

There are no ashes or soot, no shaking to be done—just clean heat, where you want it, and only when you want it. The Florence Oil Range cuts down your fuel bills.

Take a look at it

You will find the Florence a beauty, with its sparkling enamel and nickel trimmings. Examine it closely and you will appreciate many exclusive features, such as the unbreakable oil reservoir and the portable oven with the "baker's arch" and patented heat-spreader to assure even cooking.

Don't buy just "an oil stove" until you have seen how the Florence works. Try one yourself right at the store. (Department, furniture or hardware store.)

Milk Gives Lime for the Making of Sturdy Frames and Good Teeth in Little Folks

One of the important reasons why your children should have plenty of milk during the growing period of their lives is the fact that milk contains more available lime than any other of the common foods.

As you know, lime is needed for the formation of bone, for the formation of the hard enamel of teeth and lime in your children's diet increases the ability of little bodies to absorb the iron from your other foods.

For the construction of strong sturdy bones for the framework of little bodies and for the making of plenty of enamel for the protection of the teeth from decay, the kiddies should have plenty of good rich milk in their diet.

And milk is the cheapest source of supply for this lime that you can find among any of the common foods.

LOWER MOTOR DEATH RATE

With the actual number of fatalities from automobile accidents increasing month by month, it is encouraging to learn that the percentage is decreasing.

In 1907, when there were only 142,000 cars in the United States, there were 598 deaths from automobile accidents. In 1923 there were 16,700 such deaths—an appalling number. But there were also 15,000,000 motor vehicles of various types in the country. That is, the number of automobiles increased 105 times while the accident toll mounted to only 27 times its earlier rate. The danger attached to every individual car has therefore decreased something like 75 per cent.

All present indications are that motor cars will continue to increase in number. Modern cars are faster moving; present-day streets are more congested. Nevertheless, it should be possible to keep the fatality percentage on the decline. The very danger of the tremendous number of cars and the crowding of thoroughfares will emphasize more and more the need of caution. Wiser traffic laws, stricter enforcement of them, sterner punishment for infringement, thorough education of school children in safety rules and practice will do much to effect a lower automobile death rate.

UNUSED MONEY

An officer of the United States Treasury says there is more than $400,000,000 hoarded in this country by people who distrust banks or are indifferent to the benefits of bank deposits.

Many of them, he says, are plain misers, who love to gloat over their gold, silver and banknotes. About $200,000,000 is stored in cupboards and mattresses of foreign-born residents who are unaccustomed to banks. Farmers are hoarding perhaps $125,000,000.

All of this is understandable. Coins have a pleasant jingle in one's pocket, and to many eyes an engraved greenback or yellow-back is more beautiful than any other work of art. The foreign-born have more excuse for acting as their own bankers than the native-born, because it is often a new thing for them to have money, and often their experiences with petty bankers of their own nationality have been unfortunate. Farmers have poorer banking facilities than other classes.

Yet in nearly all cases, this withholding of money from the bank vaults where it naturally belongs is bad. Money is the chief tool of our economic system. Like any other tool, it is made to use. And unlike other tools, it does not wear out, but grows with use.

It is foolish for the owner of any sum larger than pocket cash to forego the interest it will bear. But there is a stronger reason for banking it. Putting the money into the bank is putting it into circulation and stimulating business. It is using the same money, over and over again, for wages, salaries and the distribution of the necessities of life. The banks cannot lend money to carry on business, or to build houses and develop farms, unless people first deposit it with them.

GOVERNOR PINCHOT
ADDS ONE PER CENT
SALARY INCREASE

Harrisburg, June 16 (U. P.)—Governor Pinchot has added one per cent to the cost of running the state government by his action increasing the salaries of 5,000 of the state employees effective today.

Approximately $100,000 a year must be taken from the general fund of the state treasury to pay the increases, the governor announced.

The increases were granted, he

said, for the following reasons:

1. Because of greater responsibility falling on the individual employee due to change in organization.
2. Because of filling vacancies by promotion in one class from the next lower class.
3. In recognition of special merit and efficiency on the part of the employee.

Nine out of ten persons who were benefited by salary increases had been receiving less than $1200 a year, the governor's figures showed.

The average promotion, he said, amounts to $10.50 a month.

Governor Pinchot compared his

record with that of the previous administration to show the increases do not materially affect his claim for a saving of $40,000 a day.

"The figures for the present biennium," said the governor, "show pay-rolls from the general fund 16 per cent below those of the first year of the last biennium. With the increases the total is still 15 per cent less than for the first year of the last biennium."

Six hundred autographs recently shown in London were insured for $125,000.

Progress Editorials for Women

NOT SO CONTRARY

By FLORENCE DAVIES
Is there a streak of the contrary in all of us, or can we find a gentler name for the quality that resents doing what it's told to do?

"We never had any trouble getting Jane off to bed early," said the mother of a girl in her teens. "We just pictured staying up late as a punishment. That made going to bed early seem the greatest privilege."

Whether or not that is sound child psychology, it certainly does represent a common trait. We do want to do the thing we are told not to do.

It's just that which has made prohibition cause so much trouble, some people say.

But perhaps we can find a gentler name for this trait than obstinacy.

Perhaps, in fact, the contrary child isn't so contrary as she is anxious to express her own individuality.

If, somehow, we can let a child

arrive at a conclusion alone, the rest is easy.

It's very natural to resent force of any kind. Once the will to act comes from within, the action takes care of itself.

And yet, time and time again, parents willfully crush a child's self-respect, robbing him of the illusion that he has made his own decisions about a matter, when just a little patience and a little tact could have accomplished that end.

It's hard for grown people to measure up to that most difficult of all the bestitudes, "Ehased are the meek" and children find it no easier to make graceful concessions to a will other than their own.

The thing we call obstinacy or perversity, or just plain contrariness in children is often no willful meanness. It is merely a fierce struggle to originate their own actions. Once we understand this fact and use it, half the battles with childhood are won.

ROUND THE GLOBE BY AIR

In the first week of April four air men will fly from San Diego to Seattle. There they will hop off to the extreme end of the Aleutian group. Success is no far, the broken will go on to Kamchatka, the long peninsula hanging like an icicle from the coast of Siberia. The next landing place will be in Japan. Again the hazards of the sea will be challenged. The flyers will make for Oculutta. India will be around. A descent will be made at a point on the Persian gulf. From this place, Constantinople is to be aimed for. Rapidly, flight will be taken over several European countries until London is reached. Once more a sea flight is to be undertaken, this time to Iceland, thence to Greenland, then over to British America, down the shores of Labrador to Canada, from Canada into the United States and to the place of beginning at San Diego. Aerial navigation has reached that stage where the pilots will not be satisfied until they have demonstrated their ability to fly around the globe. They have confidence in their ability, faith in their machines, the desire to attempt what long has been only a dream of novelists. Whether this voyage turns out according to plans and hopes, the thing will be no accomplished some day soon. It is too good a chance to be ignored. It is too good a chance for distinction for the birdmen to leave to another generation.

In early days the wooden sailing ships engaged in the whaling industry in southern seas pursued only right whales and sperm whales, or cachalots. The so-called "finners," such as the blue whale, the largest animal in the world; the humpback, the small fish whale; and the beluga, were all too active and so difficult to kill when killed. Says the Fishery News: But their time has now come for the whale. A small, heavily armed cannon, the harpoon, the shell, and the body of the whale, kept afloat by inflated bladders, are through pipes from the mouth of the whaler. The harpoon is fired from a factory on shore, and a special barge is towed to the harbor. Besides the whaling which no longer pursued at all, and the oil, which is graded into grades as it comes from the blubber, the tongue and bones, the blubber, the dried flesh and bones which are now also put to commercial use. The fresh fish is used to make white meat meal.

The contest for the prizes offered by the American Railway association for the most appropriate poster and slogan for use in the intensive campaign against crossing accidents, which is now on as a preliminary to the big offensive, is a competitive effort. At present rate of crossing accidents and fighting in the increase of automobiles it is estimated that in 1934 2,500 persons or more than 200 a month, will be killed and 100,000 injured. The great majority of such deaths and injuries will come from automobile accidents. The ghastly tragedy of crossing accidents is that they are avoidable. Much good can be done by preparing and circulating a poster that will impress the beholder with the danger of carelessness at crossings. A slogan should be devised that will burn into the mind of the motorist the fact that his own death will be the cost of carelessness.

Governments should estimate that more than $100,000,000 is stolen from small investors in America last year by swindlers and promoters of highly speculative ventures. The money is taken from a class that can ill afford to lose it. In many instances life savings are consumed by these frauds. The oft-mentioned sum was a plausible story for indulgence in gullibility. It had been investigated before such investments, they would not have been made. There are abundant opportunities for such investigation. Banks throughout the country stand ready to advise applicants as to ventures concerning which they may inquire. Government agencies are ready to aid in detecting fraud. Failure to make proper investigation before investing money is the fault of the investor.

What's in a Name?

By MILDRED MARSHALL

Read about your names in history; meaning; whence it was derived; the difference your lucky day, lucky jewel

ANNETTE

FRANCE is responsible for the dashing little name Annette, which conjures up visions of a slim, chic creature of flashing eyes and saucy smile. The very sound of the name seems to preclude any relationship with demure Anne, but they have a common origin in the Hebrew word meaning "grace", which the Irish have identified with their native Aine (Joy).

The name from which Annette was evolved was first used in France after a supposed appearance of the good St. Anne to two children at Auray in Brittany, and first gained vogue as a feminine name through the Bretonne heiress, twice queen of France. Its popularity in court circles insured its widespread usage among all classes in France.

Scotland adopted it in preference to the English Anne, calling it Annet. It penetrated England without change of form and, curiously enough, in view of Anglo-Saxon distaste for Gallic names, maintained its original form. In this country, it is bestowed without reference to its foreign flavor, and is almost never used as a derivative of Aine.

The yellow jacinth is Annette's talismanic gem. It will protect her against lightning and insure her safety in traveling. At the approach of danger or disease it is said to pale in color. Saturday is her lucky day and 1 her lucky number.

A Line o' Cheer

THE SEARCH

WHEN things are dark, and skies are gray,
I deem it man's first duty
To hie him forth upon the way
And look about for beauty,
Lest mid the yellow and the green,
And trials that pursue us,
We overlook the gifts of cheer
This life has given to us.

The Why of Superstitions

By H IRVING KING

IVY

IN NEW ENGLAND there is a popular superstition that it is unlucky to keep ivy in the house and that ivy is unlucky as a gift. At first it seems strange to see the idea of bad luck associated with ivy, which plant decorated the thyrus of Pegasus and the leaves of which the Romans mingled with the laurel in their victor's crowns.

All popular superstitions have an origin, which origin must be searched for in remote past almost without exception. They are inheritances. Those which at first glance appear to be modern will upon investigation, generally be found to be most ancient in their roots. Thus the idea that the eating of tomatoes produces cancer, a few years ago a most common superstition and one which would appear to date only from the comparatively recent time when tomatoes were first used as food, is, in reality, merely an application of one of man's earliest conceptions, that of the primitive magic which is known as homeopathic—like producing like.

So there is some ancient cause for the ivy superstition. It would appear to be a lingering echo of an historical incident which rendered at the time the generally esteemed and venerated ivy a most unsafe and unlucky plant to have in one's possession. About two hundred years before the Christ-

JORDAN'S

AMERICA'S HOPES SAIL FOR OLYMPIC FIELDS OF HONOR

New York, June 16. (INS.)—Brilliant of confidence, the greatest array ever sent from America in quest of Olympic titles sailed on the liner America from Hoboken at noon today.

From practically every state and territorial possession has this formidable army of 253 athletes been recruited. In addition to the track and field team there were gymnasts, boxers, wrestlers, swimmers, cyclists, and equestrians.

The feeling among the American athletes just before sailing time was that if they were beaten in any event the victor would have to set a new mark. This feeling of record-shattering marks is justified, athletes say, because of the remarkable performance turned in at the tryouts at the Harvard stadium last Saturday.

The tryouts removed the last doubt as to the ability of American athletes to hold their own. In these tryouts world's records and American records went by the board while Olympic standards were surpassed.

The committee announced three additions to the track team—Basil Irwin of the Newark A. C., who will compete in the 3000 meter steeplechase; Ben Owen, University of Pennsylvania, a candidate for pole vault honors; and Caleb F. Gates, Princeton, will seek laurels in hammer throw.

The athletes will not lack proper training facilities while they are on the ocean. Every provision has been made for the athletes to keep themselves in good shape on the America. The liner has been fitted up with a running track encircling the superstructure; a boxing ring has been fitted up on one of the decks; a swimming tank has been installed; padded rings installed for the wrestlers and weight throwers will be able to practice their swings in special constructed rings.

Scores of enthusiasts will accompany the team, as well as handlers, rubbers and other attendants.

A PLEASANT MENU

is offered to our patrons every day, diversified as to fishes, meats, soups, vegetables and dessert. All the foods are the best procurable, properly cooked, and well served in a cleanly atmosphere that is at once homelike and pleasing. Added to all these attractions are our very reasonable prices.

Pittsburg, Pa., June 14. (INS.)—Guckenheimer and Bros. Co. distillers of Freeport, Pa., and six individuals found guilty of conspiracy in connection with the withdrawal of thousands of gallons of whiskey from their warehouses on forged and counterfeit permits, were sentenced here today in federal court by Judge Schoonmaker. The following sentences were imposed:

Louis Farkas, president of the company, $10,000 and two years in the federal prison at Atlanta; Louis Brown, a director of the company, $10,000 fine and two years in Atlanta; E. C. Little, $2,000 and one year and one day at Atlanta; George Beck, six months in the county jail; William J. Ferris, two years at Atlanta and William Dickerman, $2,000 and one year and one day at Atlanta.

The Guckenheimer Corporation was sentenced to pay a fine of $10,000, the maximum sentence. Joseph Tico also convicted, was unable to appear in court because of illness and will be sentenced on June 23.

Farkas formerly conducted a wholesale liquor store in Clearfield and also had a beer license for awhile at Winburne. Ferris ran the Cliff House at Houtdale, before becoming a "dry enforcement" officer.

REFRIGERATOR ROBBERS TO BE ROUNDED UP

A gang of boys and young men living in the upper end of town have been rifling refrigerators and back porches in the Reedsville and upper South Second street sections for some time, and their depredations have become so exasperating and annoying that steps are about to be taken to bring the guilty ones to justice and thus break up the practice.

Last evening the refrigerator at A. L. Moore's residence was robbed of several cantaloupes and other eatables. An attempt was made to rob the refrigerator at G. Webb Shillingford's at the same time but Alex Spence nabbed the lad in the act. He allowed the boy to go before he learned that Moore's had been robbed.

Last Saturday night milk, butter and other eatables were stolen in the same section and unless these boys of the parents call and see Mr. Spence about settling for the stuff and guaranteeing a breaking up of the practice a warrant will be issued for the boy caught at Shillingford's and he will be made to tell on his pals and the whole gang rounded up.

It is high time this petty stealing is broken up and the parents of the boys involved will save time, trouble and worry by assisting in the work of putting an end to it.
